Adjuntar: RE_ NCNDA Re_ BCL RE_ Eisen Scrap Yard Argentina - Comm_ 3 . Mt _ EAA Membership - Black friday 30% off.eml
Asunto: RE: BCL RE: Scrap yard Argentina - Comm included 3/MT

Dear Sir,

As proved to you our capability and relations with clients which you also have already so you can imagine the next 3 Clients we have are similar big companies in nature . They trust us and if you have noticed my email , I am attaching it again , Blyth Metals Reached us for supply which we are now arranging for them from another yard .

I have sent you our company introduction and yard details as well as how many warehouse, plants we own. If we need to stabilize operations and work together , you need to clear few things below so we can finish 3 projects this week:

- We are not going to register ourselves until the time we want. You could either stop asking your membership fee as we have given you Blyth Metals new order and your email is 1 month old with them.
- The commissions and overpricing part needs to be cleared very well for both of us to reach a solution. We mentioned we are resellers and if we move you into picture with our end users, the reselling price whatever is accepted by our end user can be either shared between us but cannot be the case that if we don't register and you taking all extra cost by providing 3 usd to us as at the end its our name due to which the deal will start.

I am upfront and clear in what I am mentioning to you. We all have to do business, I respect your rules however those are so disturbing if we see our work and capability. You may want to register us , then please do . I will register our Australia team and us but we aren't going to pay no membership fee . Eisenhardt is an old firm and I believe asking these fees of membership seems inappropriate completely to us.

Best Regards,
Sam
